MISSOULA--

People in the Helena area are invited to meet with University of Montana faculty, students and administrators Monday and Tuesday, May 8 and 9, in Helena.

According to Deanna Sheriff, UM Alumni Relations Director, during the two-day period University faculty members will present classroom lectures in the two Helena high schools, and the University of Montana Alumni Association will host a reception at The Montana Club from 6-7:30 p.m. May 8, honoring President Bowers and other members of the UM team.

During the reception two UM alumni scholarships will be presented to Helena high school students by Pres. Bowers. The funds for the scholarships were raised by UM alumni living in Helena.

All alumni, prospective students and their parents are invited to the reception along with other interested members of the community.

Besides President Bowers and Sheriff, the UM team will include faculty members from various academic departments and student services and members of the UM Advocates, a group of student volunteers. The visit to Helena will conclude UM's Community Visit Program for this academic year.
